

Dover House Resort, Under the Management of Landex Resorts International Awarded ‘Florida Green Lodging Certification’ by Department of Environmental Protection (DEP)

The Florida Green Lodging Program is a sustainable initiative of the DEP that recognizes properties who make a commitment to conserve and protect Florida’s natural resources and environment.

Delray Beach, FL (PRWEB) March 21, 2014 -- Delray Beach Florida resort, Dover House Resort, a vacation and timeshare condominium complex, operated by Landex Resorts International, Inc., of Lehigh Acres, Florida, was awarded the prestigious “Florida Green Lodging Certification” by the Department of Environmental Protection’s, Florida Green Lodging Program. This designation recognizes environmental leaders in Florida’s hospitality industry. Dover House is proud to be a Florida lodging facility that has met requirements in sustainable settings and operation of the highest standards in environmental protection and preservation.

The award factors in a number of environmental practices in various areas of sustainable operations such as communication & education relating to customers, employees and the public; preservation; waste reduction; water conservation; energy efficiency; and indoor air quality.

Dover House General Manager, Leonardo Dahbur, points out that “this award is an exciting time for the resort. We work very hard to bring great customer service, communicate our initiatives to our guests and create the tropical look and feel they expect while they are in Florida.”

Spearheading the green movement, Robyn Rocco/VP of Landex/CAM (community association manager at Dover House, reflected, “Since the renovation, the measured environmental and financial outcome has saved the resort 40% on their utility and energy operating expenses.” Ms. Rocco also applauded Florida’s supportive Energy Star program for tax incentives in association with the resorts green initiatives.

“We will continue to expand our sustainable and ‘green’ efforts at Dover House to provide our guests with environmentally responsible surroundings,” adds Ruth Anglickis, President of Landex. We are excited to share our best management practices with timeshare properties in Florida who understand that now is the right time to make smart choices for sustainable practices and consumer awareness programs. There is an increasing demand in the timeshare and resort marketplace to improve visibility through sustainable and conservation measures. We are proud to be part of these conscientious efforts.”

Dover House will continue their commitment to ‘green practices’ with annual upgrades, supporting new practices, and demonstrating that they can make a lasting impact on Florida’s preservation for years to come.
